In the United States, families share their lives with almost 90 million dogs. Canines outnumber cats as the favored pet at a rate of about three to one. Most owners work hard to ensure their dogs receive regular medical care, nutritious food, and supplements to ensure a long, healthy life. CBD is becoming a popular supplement for the family dog as owners give it to their four-legged friends for its reputed health benefits. Also Organics is proud to offer a high-quality, pet-friendly CBD tincture that helps with alleviate expressions of chronic pain, inflammation, depression, anxiety, insomnia, and seizures.

Some holistic veterinarians are turning their attention towards CBD for dogs because CBD appears to interact with the canine endocannabinoid system (ECS) in the same way that it does in humans. The ECS helps to regulate a variety of functions in the body such as sleep, immune system response, and memory. CBD binds with the ECS receptors and can provide many therapeutic effects for both humans and animals.

Naturally occurring cannabinoids, like CBG (cannabigerol) work with the built-in endocannabinoid system (ECS) of humans and pets to help regulate both central nervous and immune systems. Also Organics' PETS tincture is specially formulated to help relieve chronic pain, inflammation, depression, anxiety, insomnia, and seizures.
