

Lookah Seahorse Pro Dip Wax Pen Sells Over 100,000 Units

Lookah's new dab pen, the Seahorse Pro, surpasses 100,000 sales in the first two months.

Lookah Glass, one of the fastest-growing glass water bong and dab rig companies, launched the Seahorse Pro in June 2020. This was their second dab pen; however, following their previous model's success, expectations were high.

The Seahorse Pro was a highly anticipated new dab wax pen. It was built on the award-winning success of the Seahorse original, adding further functionality.

"Sales for June and July topped 100,000, which is fantastic news. We were worried about the current economic climate that sale might slump, but if anything, they have been greater than anticipated", Said Marketing Manager Mr. J Mash. "The Lookah brand has long been synonymous with quality glass bongs and water pipes but is relatively new to the CBD vape market."

It would appear that with the increased amount of free time that COVID-19 brought us and being less able to venture out, dabbers have embraced this new product to while away the long lock-down.

In September 2019, the first seahorse dab pen won the best paraphernalia award at the CBD Expo in the UK. If sales of this new dab pen are anything to go by Lookah is setting lining up for another award with the second generation Seahorse Pro.

"Winning the best paraphernalia award at last years expo proved that all the hard work was worthwhile, Lookah is determined to create cannabis products that provide great alternatives for consumers. It's a pivotal time for the industry as it grows, and we want to help lead the way" Concluded J Mash.

About Lookah

For more than 15 years, Lookah Glass has been producing high-quality glass water pipes, bongs, and dab rigs. It has recently moved into electronic nectar collectors and vaporizers for oil, wax and dry herb.
