Why customers trust Performax as their EaaS of choice?

Our clients trust Performax with implementing an “inclusive” employee engagement process.

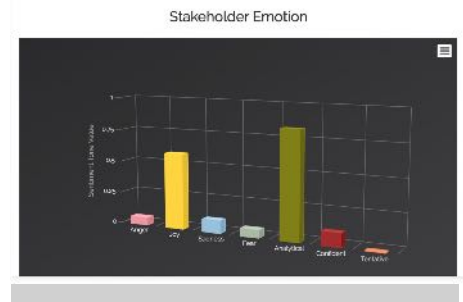

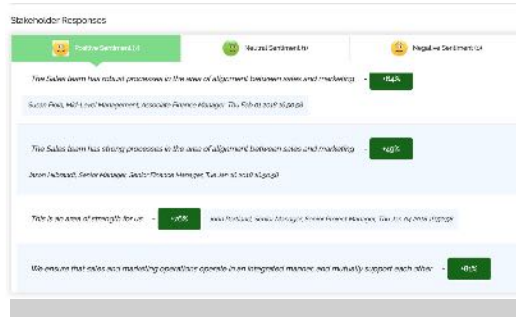

Today’s increasingly competitive business environment demands full employee engagement, but only 16% employees are highly engaged, according to research from Harvard Business Review.

Millennials want their voices heard through a culture of high-engagement, collaboration, innovation, and transparency.

The EaaS process delivers an unbiased 360° real-time view of the current state, key risks, and opportunities for growth and sustainability.

Access cognitive insights.

Leveraging IBM Watson natural language understanding, Performax EaaS reads and interprets employee sentiment and emotions without bias.

What is cognitive analytics?

Cognitive analytics applies artificial intelligence and machine learning to interpret human language in order to infer the underlying sentiment and emotions expressed.

Sentiment Analysis

Feedback submitted are instantly analysed for the sentiment expressed: positive, neutral, or negative.

Emotion Analysis

You can see what emotions are being expressed by each stakeholder group: anger, joy, sadness, etc.

Time saver.

You don't have to read terabytes of feedback data... IBM Watson reads, interprets, and classifies the feedback for you.

Unbiased.

Stakeholder feedback is often complimentary, but often not... IBM Watson objectively evaluates the emotions expressed.

Why Performax?

IDEA
