NFL Rosters: 2020 East-West Shrine Bowl Alums In The League

Tampa, Florida – Ninety players from the 2020 East-West Shrine Bowl™ are now signed with an NFL team. There are more than 300 Shrine Bowl alumni playing prominent roles on all 32 NFL teams.

These numbers currently represent players on a 53-man roster, practice squad and reserve.

“It’s a really strong number to have more than 70 percent of our 2020 East-West Shrine Bowl roster currently on NFL payrolls as we head into the third week of the season,” East-West Shrine Bowl executive director Bob Roller said. “These young men work so hard to achieve this dream, and it’s great to see all of these stories each season.

Fourth-round draft pick Kevin Dotson made his NFL debut in week two, and he is the only rookie offensive lineman with 10 plus pass-block snaps and zero quarterback pressures allowed.

James Robinson, who was the Offensive MVP in the Shrine Bowl, went undrafted and now is on a 53-man roster. Robinson currently is leading rookie rushers in week two with 102 yards, a touchdown and a 28-yard pass reception. He was the fifth for the week and eight overall for the year.

Twelve out of the 58 Shrine Bowl players that signed as undrafted free agents are now on a 53-man roster-- Rico Dowdle (Dallas); Rashad Smith (Dallas); James Robinson (Jacksonville); Ben Ellefson (Jacksonville); Luq Barcoo (Jacksonville); Yasir Durant (Kansas City); Tershawn Wharton (Kansas City); Tommy Townsend (Kansas City); Bryce Huff (New York Jets); Cam Gill (Tampa Bay); Parnell Motley (Tampa Bay); Isaiah Wright (Washington).
