Why ClarionAccess®?

OEMs face many challenges to keep up with today’s demanding business climate, competitor advancements and evolving customer expectations. Increase your product’s safety, efficiency and customer experience with ClarionAccess®. This turnkey platform allows you to have a central hub for all of your product information – and to easily share that hub with your customers. Bridge the gap between your product and your end user’s needs, while ensuring the highest standards of safety.

Benefits for You and Your Team

This product management and safety solution provides tangible benefits throughout your product’s lifecycle and across your company and stakeholders – from engineers to sales and marketing, from your C-suite to your end users.

- Liability: Clarion Safety’s priority is protecting people – and helping companies meet their liability/compliance and business objectives.
- Safety: Increase end user safety with the latest standards-compliant, custom-developed safety resources and training, tailored to your product.
- Efficiency: Boost operational efficiency and save costs with one central, online location that marketing, technical or customer service teams can point to for all equipment-related needs.
- Competitive Advantage: Improve customer experience and satisfaction with easy access to all product information. That includes safety training, manuals, servicing/parts, and more.

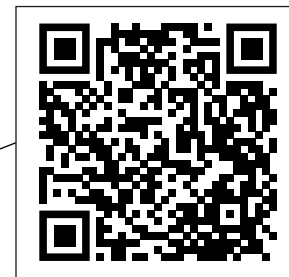

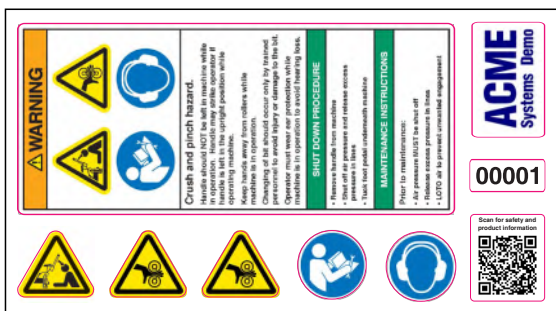

Unlock Your Product's Safety and Efficiency

How Does ClarionAccess® Work?

Clarion Safety optimizes your label program, ensuring the use of best practices for safety communication while enhancing your cost structures. You'll then receive a kit (in your preferred printed format) of all the labels needed for a particular machine: from safety and certification-related to logos and dataplates. This includes a QR-code label for your end user to instantly connect directly from your equipment to your ClarionAccess® platform.

Platform Highlights

ClarionAccess® is accessible on any device – desktop, laptop, tablet or smart phone – and is built to your brand and product specifications. Give your end user one central, easy access point for:

- All product information, documentation and resources
- Product-specific, customized safety training with certificates of completion
- Tech support and service requests
- Ordering of parts and accessories
- Product updates or marketing-related notices
