

“Can’t Stop Us” by Nyasia Chane’l is proving that music with a message still matters

R&B Princess Nyasia Chane’l latest dancehall backed single is impacting major radio across the country.

New York Based independent artist Nyasia Chane’l new single “Can’t Stop Us” is without question the biggest record of this talented singer’s short career. Released early this month, “Can’t Stop Us” has already made it to major radio including both the top Hip-Hop/R&B Stations in New York (Power 105.1 and Hot 97), 90.3 (NYC), 103.7FM (Mia, FL), 90.1 (Stonybrook, NY), 95.7 (Sea, FL), 90.9 (Redbluff, CA) and several more.

Known for crafting powerful soul ballads or fun and light club records, when asked why Nyasia chose to take a risk and release a “political record” she had this to say: "I sat back and watched people risk arrest, risk COVID-19 to protest and fight against white supremacy and police brutality", Nyasia reflects, "I needed to create a record that would express my emotions and also help to inspire others to get more involved."

The granddaughter of immigrants from Barbados Nyasia Chane'l tapped into her Caribbean roots and went to a Dancehall/Reggae classic "Can't Stop Us Now" by George Nooks aka the prince of conscious reggae. Powered by the "Dr. Darling Riddim" released in 2004. Nyasia updated the record to reflect the times and serve as a rallying cry for people of all stripes and colors to get involved and bring positive and sustainable change to the United States.

Teaming up with Creative & Soulful Entertainment and Goodthyme Click Entertainment, proceeds from "Can't Stop Us" and related merchandise will go to reputable organizations dedicated to the movement for black lives. Starting with www.JusticeForBreonna.org

Nyasia has already begun to make the industry and fans take notice with her message driven record. While debuting "Can't Stop Us" on his radio show, Hot 97's legendary radio personality, Bobby Konders had this to say: "Nyasia's voice is incredible but the message is even more incredible".

Nyasia Chane'l plans to continue to use her growing platform to help inspire a positive change as she continues her journey as an Entertainer and Entrepreneur.
