FILM FESTIVAL FLIX ANNOUNCES NEW VIRTUAL CHANNEL PARTNERSHIP WITH THE EQUUS FILM AND ARTS FEST

The EQUUS Film and Arts Fest will be presented virtually on Film Festival Flix's digital streaming platform from November 13th – 22nd 2020.

LOS ANGELES, CA, November 11, 2020 – Film Festival Flix has launched a new streaming channel for the 2020 EQUUS Film and Arts Fest. Film Festival Flix's online digital platform will virtually present all carefully curated equestrian selections from November 13th – 22nd 2020. It is EQUUS Film and Arts Fest's mission to showcase every horse's story through films, art, and literature. Festival Patrons and Ticket holders will be able to safely watch movies and engage with the unique Festival content from the comfort of their own homes through FilmFestivalFlix.com or the Film Festival Flix TV and mobile apps.

"I'm very excited to be working with EQUUS Film and Arts Fest's incredible team. We're proud to be powering this respected film festival to audiences globally in hopes of helping EQUUS reach their mission of showcasing all equestrian films, art, and literature," shares Film Festival Flix CEO, Benjamin Oberman.

EQUUS Film and Arts Fest patrons and ticket holders will be able to watch an excellent selection of over 50 equestrian films with an additional 10 encore screenings of past WINNIE winners from more than 16 countries. Additionally, the podcast program will contain 60 literary works with 13 artists featured and 6 podcasters to browse through. By purchasing an All-Access Pass, you will have unlimited anytime access to view all feature films showcased by filmmakers from all over the world. To watch, audiences simply have to log in, select the program of their choice, and click "watch" to begin their viewing experience.

Streaming tickets to the EQUUS Film and Arts Fest are now available for customers to purchase.
