The Official BSU Women's Forum of Bowie State University Presents, Still I Rise: Her Story, Her Becoming

(Bowie, MD) — For the first time the BSUWF will host its Annual Women's Expo Conference completely virtual March 4th-5th 2021 during Women's History Month! The expo will focus on four major themes: mental health, leadership, social justice and entrepreneurship.

The keynote speakers include the astounding Anna Gifty, CEO of Sadie Collective and the phenomenal Jennifer King, the first black female Assistant Coach in the NFL. Be a part of this dynamic experience to engage with other powerhouse women, attend entrepreneurial workshops and hear CEO speakers, and enhance your career or business and brand yourself as a professional. Women have embraced and excelled in the new normal and this opportunity for collaboration and support, information on burn out, self care, and tips for parents and students alike in navigating schooling will make for an amazing two day event!

Our goal will be to acknowledge and recognize the work of all women locally, nationally and globally. This will be a historical moment for the BSU Women's Forum; as we continue to celebrate, and honor our first female President at Bowie State University, Dr. Aminta H. Breaux and many other women who have contributed to the rising of women in leadership.

Our mission is to help women to continue to blossom and create a safe place for them to share their experiences and stories with each other on campus. This will be an event for women to engage, develop and be empowered to BLOSSOM.

The exciting sessions with dynamic speakers and presenters include:

- Unconscious Bias, We All Matter
- Overcoming Burnout & Virtual Fatigue through the Arts
- Leading through Change and Uncertainty: How to deal with Grief
- Sparking Innovation: Big Picture Thinking
- Still I Rise, Unapologetically. The myths of sisterhood
- A MOMS TIME...Time out and reflection for moms
