Real-Time Intelligent Auditing

12th Tech's RTI Auditing System™ empowers your risk mitigation teams with the industry's most innovative, intuitive, flexible, and cost-effective auditing solution available today.

Insight into what's happening at your dealers and with your assets is no longer solely dependent on auditors walking around lots doing physical audits, but can now be augmented with dealer self-audits and electronic verification of asset location—providing multiple sources of real-time information and higher confidence—at a far lower cost per audit than traditional methods.

12th Tech's predictive analytics, machine learning capabilities, and comprehensive support for multiple auditing and verification processes enable you to assess risk and issues more quickly, and then mitigate that risk by concentrating your resources into the areas that are most needed, all in real time, leveraging our cloud-based, secure, high-performance system.
