

Global Music Competition (GMC): The Search for the Stars of the Future

About GMC: The Search For The Stars of The Future

Global Music Competition (GMC): The Search for the Stars of the Future is a monthly global music competition bringing music fan communities together online in a way that transcends geographic borders and connecting members of a truly global fan base in a way that isn't possible with an in-person show.

The Program is a more modern and immersive version of music and talents competitions, and will run exclusively on the Visibiliti App.

Enabling aspiring music creators from around the world to make their dreams come true: International Recognition, New Revenue Streams, Brand Partnerships, Promotional Campaign through the app and a Tour for breakout artists.

Showcasing The Next Generation of Talents

Only 200 contestants per competition. And each competition will go for one month.

During the exciting 30 days, fans will vote in 3 multiple rounds to select the winners. Each round will last 10 days. Top 10 that get the most love ❤️ will advance to next round, the top 5 and the top winner will give an extravagant performance live on the app to viewers worldwide. The national anthem of the winner will be performed by a recognized singer from the winner's country or by audio.

Fans from around the world will show their support by giving tips in virtual goods 🍀. The winner gets 40%, 30% goes to the App platform and we take 30% (5% goes to the school if the winner is a student). This is not the only way for the winner to bask in their accomplishment. The winner will be accepted into our Visibiliti Partner Program (VPP), with new opportunities for more revenues, brand partnerships, a promotional campaign on the app and a potential tour to delight fans.

These monthly competitions are seeking out the world's finest composers. Talents that believe in hard work and personal growth, and aspire for greatness.

The particular categories to be announced quarterly.
