

Nancy Arato, PrestigePEO Marketing Leader Wins 2021 Gold Stevie Award

HR solutions provider earns well-deserved industry honor

(MELVILLE, N.Y. – Oct. 21, 2021) – PrestigePEO is proud to announce its Director of Marketing, Nancy Arato, has been named a 2021 Gold Stevie Award winner for ‘Women in Business’ in the category of ‘Communications or PR Campaign of the Year in Marketing – Business to Business.’ Nancy’s award is earned in the American Business Awards program.

The Stevie® Award applications are extended to businesses around the world. They honor the top working professionals and organizations making positive contributions. The ‘Women in Business’ category is open to organizations internationally. More than 1,000 professionals worldwide participate in the judging process, according to the academy. The Stevie® Award judges include many of the world’s most respected executives, entrepreneurs, innovators, and business educators.

Of the honor, Nancy says, “It’s something I’m really proud to achieve for PrestigePEO. Creating campaigns to tell our story in terms of how we provide SMB’s HR support is very rewarding. We value our tenured clients and look forward to fostering even greater business relationships in the years to come!”

Nancy joined the company in 2019, bringing a flair for branding and decades of experience to the team. With her help, PrestigePEO has transformed into one of the nation’s leading industry organizations. Her Stevie® Award is joined by a company-earned title this year in the medium category for ‘Company of the Year – Business & Professional Services.’ A virtual awards ceremony for both honors will be held on January 13, 2022.

PrestigePEO founder and CEO Andy Lubash offers his praise to Nancy on the award, saying, “this recognition has been hard-earned by our dedicated marketing department. The distinction truly represents the passion Nancy brings to our brand and all that her team has built.”

This unwavering support reflects the company’s mission to support small businesses across the nation and back the brokers who make this opportunity possible. PrestigePEO was founded by brokers, for brokers; it maintains its ambition to serve all of those involved in what lies ahead.
