Remi Adebajo Accepted Into Forbes Coaches Council

Forbes Coaches Council Is an Invitation-Only Community for Leading Business and Career Coaches

London, England

Remi Adebajo, a leading executive, transition, and personal development coach and developer of the IMPACT© Coaching Model, a proprietary end-to-end coaching approach, has been accepted into Forbes Coaches Council, an invitation-only community for leading business and career coaches.

He was vetted and selected by a review committee based on the depth and diversity of his experience. Criteria for acceptance include a track record of successfully impacting business growth metrics and personal and professional achievements and honours.

"We are honoured to welcome Remi into the community," said Scott Gerber, founder of Forbes Councils, the collective that includes the Forbes Coaches Council. "Our mission with Forbes Councils is to bring together proven leaders from every industry, creating a curated, social capital-driven network that helps every member grow professionally and make an even greater impact on the business world."

Over the last 25 years, Remi has facilitated change at an individual, team and organisational level through his consulting and coaching practices, navigating complex change & transformation across the UK, the EU, Asia & West Africa.

Remi Adebajo, while accepting the invitation, said, 'I am grateful for the opportunity to join the esteemed members of this Council; I have a lot of respect for the members and their achievements, making my inclusion a humbling experience. I look forward to contributing to the coaching body of knowledge, practices, and perception, assisting today's leaders, and growing the leaders of tomorrow.'

Remi is the founder of RESILIGENT, a boutique leadership, training and coaching firm. He is a University of Oxford and HEC Paris MSc Consulting and Coaching for Change alumnus and the developer of the IMPACT© Coaching Model, a proprietary coaching model used by coaches to provide a holistic coaching experience.
