ScanSTAT Technologies expands release of information services with acquisition of Delaware-based Star-Med, LLC.

June 15, 2022 - Alpharetta, Ga. ScanSTAT Technologies, a leading provider of health information management solutions, announces the acquisition of Star-Med, LLC of Wilmington, DE, a release of information service provider. This acquisition highlights ScanSTAT's continued dedication to expanding release of information resources for its client partners across the United States.

Star-Med's full range of HIM services specializing in Release of Information (ROI) and their quality assurance and personalized approach were a clear match for ScanSTAT's delivery philosophy of providing client partners and patients with the confidence that their health information requests will be processed accurately, securely, and efficiently.

This acquisition will allow ScanSTAT to leverage additional technology and resources to continue to provide best-in-class HIPAA-compliant processes that exceed expectations of healthcare organizations as well as patients.

"We are thrilled to announce ScanSTAT's merger with Star-Med and the opportunities it brings, including a presence in a new geographic market and an expanded team of ROI experts," says Matthew Rohs, President of ScanSTAT Technologies. "Star-Med's commitment to their clients aligns perfectly with ScanSTAT's culture, and we're confident this merger will further ScanSTAT's mission to make health information management easier for everyone."
