How one of our clients is saving $250,000 per year on payroll and over $100,000 on overhead:

Meet Eric Toscano, one of our clients, and founder of the Tenant Law Firm.

He manages his firm full-time, focusing on long-term planning, marketing, finances, operations, and human resources.

Named a Top 40 Under 40 Litigation Attorney in the state of California by the American Society of Legal Advocates, and selected as a 2021 Super Lawyer, Eric is passionate about entrepreneurship, trial advocacy, and social justice.

Wait... how can he achieve all of this?

Aaah... by delegating his way to freedom!
Plus, he has 10 Get Staffed Up staffers.

"Get Staffed Up has been a total game-changer for my law firm! Not only are we saving over $100,000.00 per year on overhead, but we're also adding highly qualified personnel and enriching our firm's culture with our invaluable overseas team members. In fact, whenever we need to hire, the first question we now ask is whether we can fill the position with an overseas staffer. This company is a must for any forward-thinking entrepreneur open to leveraging technology and overseas talent to provide the best possible client/customer service."

Eric's testimonial

Let's do some math...

He's currently paying around $25,000 per GSU team member, per year ($\times 10 = $250,000$).

If these GSU team members were in-house employees, and hypothetically, if they were being paid $50,000 per employee, per year, that would be half a million dollars in total.

If we subtract that $500K from the $250K Eric is actually paying for offshore employees, we get a total of $250K in savings (and this is not even counting payroll taxes!!!!)

BOTTOM LINE...

A study by the Society for Human Resource Management states that the average cost to hire an employee is $4,129, with around 42 days to fill a position. If you have to replace your receptionist twice per year, that's $8,258.00. Yikes!

You save on overhead: no more office space, desks, computers, office supplies,... BTW, we require our staffers to own a personal, updated, and reliable computer, and good internet speed. (Plus, we actually test them to make sure it's that way)

You save on payroll and you avoid employment taxes — we handle this for you. The international workers we hire make above-average salaries for where they live. Not only are those salaries significantly lower than U.S. averages, you also avoid employment taxes. It's a win-win.

Key Positions Law Firms Are Staffing with Remote Employees:

Virtual receptionist.

Social media coordinator.

Graphic designer.

Video editor.

Digital marketing analyst.
