RF Technologies® Releases Quick Response® Fall Detection Solution for Senior Living and Long-Term Care Facilities

RFT's Quick Response® Fall Detection system protects residents and a facility's bottom-line while alerting of latent falls and maintaining resident dignity.

BROOKFIELD, WI (November 14, 2022) – RF Technologies® (RFT™) is pleased to announce the release of Quick Response Fall Detection (<https://www.rft.com/fall-management/>).

RFT, a leading provider of fall management solutions and services, is pleased to announce the addition of Quick Response Fall Detection to its line of Senior Living Safety Solutions. The system is part of an advanced fall prevention and detection solution offered by RFT. The solution includes real-time fall detection, that maintains complete resident privacy as it is camera-free. The fall detection solution is a professionally installed system.

The technology is based on the company's knowledge of fall monitoring solutions that have been in use for more than 30 years. The system detects major, minor, and unreported falls that help predict more serious future events. When the system detects a fall, it automatically alerts for help through Code Alert Enterprise Software.

Quick Response Fall Detection protects seniors and respects their dignity without the use of cameras. The monitoring system ensures a rapid fall response that is 30 minutes earlier, on average, versus a facility that lacks a system. Facilities interested to learn more about Quick Response Fall Detection are invited to request a free demonstration at www.rft.com/request-a-demo/.

The fall detection system minimizes liability by eliminating negligence-related litigation, regulatory fines, and higher insurance costs. In addition, Quick Response Fall Detection reduces the wait time for help in the event of a fall, which helps reduce liability and lowers insurance costs.
