Amerisure Receives Best Practices Award from Agiloft Software

Farmington Hills, Mich., February 3 — Amerisure Insurance is pleased to receive the Agiloft Orange Award from Agiloft Inc.™, a technology vendor specializing in contract lifecycle management software.

Amerisure was awarded the CLM Super User recognition from Agiloft for exemplifying best practices in contract lifecycle management (CLM) adoption, implementation, and innovation. Amerisure team members were recognized during an awards ceremony at The Agiloft Summit in Las Vegas, Nevada, last week.

“It was such a pleasure to accept the Agiloft Orange award on behalf of the team at Amerisure,” said Matthew Latham, Amerisure’s purchasing manager who has been instrumental in launching and overseeing the platform for the organization. “I was delighted that Agiloft recognized our company for our efforts to continuously improve contract management processes.”

Amerisure adopted Agiloft CLM in 2019. The award recognizes Amerisure’s noteworthy efforts through utilization of the platform — “bringing Agiloft’s flexible approach to life by empowering internal super users to do much of the configuration required to streamline contracts and related business processes.”

“We are proud to continue to innovate through the implementation and management of Agiloft,” said Tony Burbank, Amerisure’s director of corporate services and purchasing. “We are honored to be recognized for the work Matt and the team have done to maximize opportunities and streamline contract management.”
